LAW FIRM EXPANSION. The attorneys of Allen Galluzzo Hevrin Leake, LLC have announced an expansion of the law firm. The new members of the Firm collectively have decades of experience in Northern Illinois including the Chicago metro area and in Southern Wisconsin representing physicians, physician groups, and hospital systems in various capacities, including litigation and transactional matters.

Leading the team are well known professionals William Ranard and Ryan Armour, who have each made a positive mark in the legal community over their years of practice. Together with the existing attorneys and staff at AGHL Law, AGHL Law will be able to provide a deep bench with all the resources necessary to meet the needs of these types of medical clients in the region. Partner Gino Galluzzo stated that the team “expands the ability of AGHL Law to provide top of the line services to the health care industries.” New partner William Ranard stated that “we are very excited to join AGHL and their trusted attorneys, and with the individual skills of the AGHL Law team, our clients will continue to receive the best in legal services.”

The firm concentrates in the area of business transactions and commercial litigation, appellate litigation in both state and federal courts, banking and finance, estate planning, labor and employment, real estate, economic development and government representation, and now will be able to assist various health care professionals and their respective corporate entities. The Firm offers the people you know and the advice that you trust. Allen Galluzzo Hevrin Leake, LLC is located at 6735 Vistagreen Way, Suite 110, Rockford, IL 61107 and its phone number is 815.265.6464. See our web site at www.aghl.com.
